SECRETS...We all have them...hidden and held close to the heart...sometimes we open them to ourselves or unfold them to let someone else know about them...sometimes unbidden they whisper back to us...reminding us that they are there keeping silent but always with us...what secrets do you wish to unfold with us?

This is a women's collaborative book using a square 3-inch by 3-inch ocular-opening envelope as the container for our secrets. All material and/or content/media is welcome. Writers, poets, artists are encouraged to submit. Inclusion in this project is juried by JUSTARIP Press, Phillipsburg, NJ. Envelopes exceeding the required dimensions, design or structure may not be included. All works must be signed with the artist's full name, contact information and dated somewhere on the submitted work. Submission of the piece by the artist is an agreement to be part of the project. Any images of submitted works will be used for promotional purposes only and no profits will be made from reproduction of any images. The finished collaborative book will be submitted to the National Museum for Women in the Arts for inclusion in their Special Collections. Submission does not guarantee placement. The finished collaborative book WILL BE DONATED and no proceeds will be realized by any participating artists or JUSTARIP Press, Phillipsburg, NJ. The book will be exhibited at least once in the Phillipsburg-Easton area during National Women's History Month in March of 2010. All submissions must be completed and mailed to: Maryann J. Riker, JUSTARIP Press, Phillipsburg, NJ 08865 by November 1, 2009.
